LETAC Training Center

840 S. Spring Street, Suite B, Springfield, IL

Instructor: Jan Mirikitani has been a contractor trainer and consultant for the Justice Department since 2000. Jan began training law enforcement officers in 1989, and has trained command staff, supervisors, field trainers, line officers, recruits, and telecommunicators. She has been training at the St. Louis County & Municipal Police Academy for twenty years, at the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department for 9 years, and for the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission since 2000. Jan wrote and teaches four train-the-trainer schools. She has been a conference speaker for U.S. Probation, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, the Department of the Interior, the American Society of Industrial Security, IL Sheriffs Conference, D.A.R.E. America, LETSAC, MO Juvenile Case Workers, Division of Family Services, the University of MO and University of Wisconsin Extension Centers, to name a few.

About the Course: This program examines numerous ways law enforcement personnel can invest & enlarge their agency's communication investment base in their communities toward building and increasing public trust. Stilted & inaccurate media coverage of events involving the police, any incident involving law enforcement and death of a suspect of color, coupled with the impact of Internet social media blitzing, have brought to the forefront the significant need for law enforcement to build community trust relationships.

This course examines the five tiers of law enforcement/public communication to maximize officer contacts with residents and travel through populace in both casual, non-criminal, and criminal circumstances. It discusses how to make positive in-roads with enclave perceptions and thinking, against police blind-bias, and concrete ways officers can and should build trust and support for their department and profession. It includes the significance of suspect contact in the booking/holding area, and on the street.

Non-Member Tuition: $80.00. Non-Member tuition shall apply to State/Federal agencies, Local Law Enforcement agencies which are not a member of any MTU, Local Law Enforcement agencies which are members of non-reciprocal MTU's (MTU's which do not offer free attendance to local law enforcement agencies outside of their own MTU). Tuition will be invoiced to departments upon course completion. If a pre-registered student from a Non-Member agency fails to attend training, and the agency fails to provide advance notice within 7 days of the start date of that class, the agency will be invoiced the entire amount of the student's tuition.
