Ellen L. Petty, Director

Introduction to Close Quarter Combat

(ILETSB Certified)

April 23-27, 2012

8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Illinois State Fairgrounds, Building #26, Springfield, IL

Developed and Instructed By: Sangamon County Tactical Response Team

About the Course: This class has been designed to certify the individual officer for SWAT tactics at the entry level using the CQB philosophy. Upon graduation, the student will perform the basic tasks required of a SWAT team. Veteran tactical officers can also benefit from tactics and methods taught. Patrol level officers can also apply these techniques to their daily duties and will be able to act as a liaison to a tactical team in event of an emergency in their jurisdiction.

Class topics include communications, dynamic entries, systematic entries, car assaults, team movements & numerous practical exercises. A cadre of trained instructors will teach each class. There will be a night exercise on Thursday and dark clothing is needed. Both written and practical exams are given at the end of the course.

Although there is no prerequisite physical standard, endurance & stamina are an asset. This class requires regular physical activity.

Required Student Materials: The class is held regardless of weather, so appropriate clothing is suggested. Although not required, BDU style or other loose clothing is also suggested. The officer's duty leather & ballistic vest will suffice, but they will be subjected to rigorous activity. Students are encouraged to bring any other equipment they feel they may need.

Please bring all the required equipment & ammo on the first day of class. All meals are on your own. You are also encouraged to bring a personal cooler with water/sports drinks and snack items due to the physical activity required in this class.
